

Pointes to Ponder

Dear EastPointe

If you are like us, since we have not been able to gather together as one you will have already begun to feel the loss of fellowship and communion with one another. That reality of togetherness is one of the primary reasons that the body of Christ is not about a building and is also why, when missing it is so profound. We long to assemble with you again and expect that day to be a great celebration.

But until then, during the next couple of weeks as we find ourselves at home a bit more than usual, we will be working on ways to connect with you digitally. Six days a week we plan to publish a daily Pointe to Ponder. We will briefly discuss some encouraging truths from God's Word and even offer some practical advice on what to do while we are all to some degree shut-in. We're planning for this to be a temporary supplement in our responsibility to shepherd you, the flock that God has gathered here at EastPointe. It will be published daily on Facebook, Twitter and via the email announcement list. If you are reading this and are not on that email list, you may sign up for it by clicking here.

Finally, we'd also love to hear from you. One method that might work for you is to make a brief video, about one minute or so, of something you are doing while at home and share it to our Facebook page. Feel free to post what you are doing for family worship, what meals you have eaten, board games you are playing, basically anything that is a normal part of life, that we aren't able to talk about in our time of separation.

Finally, you will still find us as always on our Website, Facebook and Twitter. And don't forget on Sunday to tune in to our Livestream service at 10:30am. And at a NEW TIME, we are also continuing John Cousins' Discipleship class via livestream beginning this Sunday, March 29th beginning at 9:00am. Until we gather in person, we pray these daily connections are helpful and encouraging as we continue to Learn, Love & Live Christ Together (digitally).

With much love,

The Elders.
